MILITARY AND NAVAL SALUTES.—We are indebted to an officer of the Army of the United States for the following extract from Halleck's Elements of International Law and Laws of War, in answer to a query propounded by a correspondent of the Times, concerning military and naval salutes:

The military regulations for the government of the Army of the United States determine, with great minuteness, the salutes and military honors to be paid by troops and forts to our civil, military and naval officers, according to the rank of each. Thus, a national salute is determined by the number of States composing the Union, at the rate of one for each State. The President of the United States alone is to receive a salute of twenty-one guns; the Vice President, seventeen guns; the heads of the Executive Departments of the Federal Government, the commanding General of the Army, and the Governors of States and Territories, within their respective jurisdictions, fifteen guns; Major Generals, and Ministers to foreign States, thirteen guns; Brigadier Generals, eleven guns; and officers of the Navy according to their relative rank with officers of the Army. The President and Vice President of the United States are to be received by the troops with standards and colors dropping, officers saluting, drums beating and trumpets sounding. The compliments of other officers of Government are varied according to the rank of each. Foreign officers, whether civil, military or naval, when invited to visit a military post or national vessel, are to be saluted according to their rank, and to receive the same honors as officers of the United States of the rank which corresponds. Thus a foreign sovereign Prince receives the same honors as the President of the United States; foreign Embassadors and Ministers, the same as American envoys of corresponding rank to foreign courts, etc. Foreign ships of war entering American ports are saluted from fortifications in return for a similar compliment, gun for gun, on notice being officially received of such intended salute. It is usual to agree beforehand what number of guns are to be fired, and it is directed that in no case shall the compliment exceed the national salute. Similar rules are established for the Navy of the United States, with respect to salutes to be given to our own and foreign officers. American ships of war, on visiting foreign ports, salute fortifications on receiving notice that the compliment will be returned, gun for gun. Our ships salute each other and foreign ships according to the rank of the respective commanders.—San Francisco Times.

THE FRENCH PRINCE IMPERIAL AS A PRINTER.—A compositor, who has recently been employed in the correction of some of the Emperor's slips of a new work he has in progress, communicates to the Printer's Register some facts of interest concerning the Emperor and his son. He writes: "The Emperor is a most particular and thoroughly practiced reader in his way; will not allow his spelling, accentuation or pointing, to be interfered with in the least. Every scrap of his copy is carefully preserved, I believe, for returning to him, and he will not allow a sheet to go to press while there is a mark to be revised on it, without having it sent to him to be carefully looked at. I am told that the little Prince is a capital compositor, and, if some forms of juvenile poetry and stories, which I have seen recently sent to be worked, are some of his compositions, they are very nicely put together. I hear he has everything of this sort to hand, with cases of the best mahogany, a small imposing surface of which incloses a nest of tastefully arranged drawers, containing a variety of miscellaneous office-fittings for his use, and the prettiest little press in the world. The young Prince, also, I am told displays considerable skill in bringing up woodcuts, for which he seems to have a taste. I should not wonder if his royal parent does not occasionally assist him, for he must know something of the practical department of a compositor's work, by the great skill and taste he displays in his alterations and corrections, which would do credit to the best title-setter in the business. The Emperor seems to be very fond of the old-faced style of type in all his financial displays."

THE following little story was recently communicated to the Nurnberger Anzeiger, by a Bavarian merchant, residing in Turin: "The intimate friends of Prince Humbert of Italy, spread the interesting rumor that his highness formed the acquaintance of a beautiful and highly accomplished Jewish lady in Paris who has conquered his heart, so that he is determined, like Napoleon III., to elevate one who is not equal in birth to himself to the throne of Italy. The enviable bride elect is said to be no other than the grand daughter of James de Rothschild. The father of the young lady will, in spite of the high rank of the suitor, give his permission for the marriage under this condition only, that she remains true to the faith of her fathers, and to ascend the throne of Italy as a Jewess. It is said that the Italian democracy is enthusiastic on account of this marriage project. The Nurnberger Anzeiger on this communication makes its remarks in this manner, saying how beneficial such a connection would be for the scattered finances of Italy, which has been sponged by the power of priests for over a thousand years, through the credit and the money of the Rothschilds."—San Francisco Hebrew Observer.

THE DEVIL'S HARVEST.—Carefully compiled statistics show that 60,000 lives are annually destroyed by intemperance in the United States.

100,000 men and women are yearly sent to prison in consequence of strong drink.

20,000 children are yearly sent to the poorhouse for the same reason.

300 murders are another of the yearly fruits of intemperance.

400 suicides follow in this fearful catalogue of miseries.

200,000 orphans are bequeathed each year to public and private charity.

$200,000,000 are yearly expended to produce this shocking amount of crime and misery, and as much more is lost from time wasted from the same cause.

Disraeli, the leader of the Tories in Parliament, commenced his career as a sub-editor. He is 62 years old.

The only beverage at General Grant's reception was iced lemonade.

Artemus Ward will clear $50,000 by his visit to England.

Alexander Smith, the Scotch poet, is dangerously ill.

Charles H. Smith—Bill Arp—was elected Mayor of Rome, Georgia.

Reconstruction.

We have a very large share of admiration for that great triumph of science and art, the Overland Telegraph. It is, indeed, a royal thing to sit down to one's muffins and coffee of a winter's morn at the base of the Rocky Mountains, and read what John Bright said yesterday at some monster meeting in Birmingham, England, or to learn that the same day the Pasha of Egypt took an airing in Alexandria. Still, "man never is, but always to be blessed," said the poet, and the high prerogative of grumbling must have a chance to exhibit itself.

We are not about to complain that a great many trivial and unimportant matters are telegraphed across the continent, because that question depends very much on the stand point from which we view it. To one man the price of consols on 'change may have neither interest nor significance; to another, the information contained in a single line on that subject may have the most direct and absorbing significance. But what we object to just now is that the "De Sauty," at Chicago, who makes up the trans-continental dispatches (perhaps necessarily) relies entirely too much on Western folks' intuition of knowing what he is talking about. We have tried in vain, to keep track of the interminable and vexed Reconstruction question as it comes to us by telegraph. But we confess ourselves sadly puzzled.

On Friday the telegrams informed us that Stevens' Reconstruction bill was considered; several amendments were discussed and voted down, as was, also, a motion to recommit the bill with instructions. "The Democrats voted for reference," says the dispatch, "but before the vote was announced all changed to the other side. The motion was negatived—69 to 95. This action brought the House promptly to the question of passing the Military Government bill." On the passage of this bill the vote stood 109 to 55, but ten Republicans voting no.

Just what are the provisions of the Military Government bill, we are not able definitely to state. About ten days ago, among the dispatches was the following which purports to give the text of the Military Government bill:

Mr. Stevens, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill providing as follows:

WHEREAS, The pretended State Governments were set up without authority of Congress and without the sanction of the people, and whereas the so pretended governments afford no adequate protection to life or property, and encourage lawlessness and crime, and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in the so-called States;

Therefore be it enacted, That the so-called States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States. For that purpose, Virginia shall constitute the First District; North Carolina and South Carolina the Second; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the Third; Mississippi and Arkansas the Fourth, and Louisiana and Texas the Fifth District.

Although this seems to give the whole of the bill, it can hardly be possible that such is the case. It must contain some provisions looking to the government of the States thus designated as military districts. The preamble recites that there are now no legal civil governments; yet the crude bill (as reported) does not profess to set up even a military government. We strongly suspect that the bill, as passed, reduces the rebel States to a territorial condition, and provides for their government by Military Governors until such time as they shall adopt constitutions satisfactory to Congress, and on the basis of universal suffrage.

Still, we confess ourselves much in the dark, and will await the arrival of our Eastern exchanges for details. Whether the House bill referred to will also pass the Senate may well be doubted, for want of time at this session, of which there remains scarcely two weeks. If passed, the President can, as he surely will, kill by pocketing it, so that Congress will have no opportunity of passing it over a veto. The significance of its passage seems to be the triumph of Thad. Stevens and the ultra Radicals, and evidences the growing temper of Congress, arising from the determined action of the South in rejecting the Constitutional Amendment. If our readers will have patience, either the telegraph or, at least, our Eastern exchanges will clear up this muddle, by and bye.

TOWN LOTS IN SALT LAKE CITY.—In the Congressional Reports of the House on the 2est of January, we notice the following brief item, of interest to the denizens of this city:

"Mr. Driggs (Rep. of Mich.) introduced a bill to authorize the pre-emption and sale of town property in Great Salt Lake City, Utah. It was referred to the Committee on Public Lands."

We are unable to say what there is in the bill, only its title being given, but as there is already a law on the statute book (1864) regulating the entry of town plats in the public domain, and restricting said entries to a limited number of acres, the probability is that the bill proposes to enlarge the quantity subject to such entry.

CHURCHES IN THE UNITED STATES.—Religious-minded people will find material of interest in the following resume:

The average value of the 11,220 Baptist churches in the United States in 1860 was $1,700; of the 18,833 Methodist churches, $2,000; of the 5,061 Presbyterian churches, $5,000; of the 2,334 Congregational churches, $6,000; of the 2,250 Romish churches, of the 2,145 Episcopal churches, and of the 440 Dutch Reformed churches, $10,000; of the 264 Unitarian churches, $17,000; and of the 24 Mormon churches, $43,000.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

New York, February 14.

The Commercial's special says that leading Union M. C.'s manifest a disposition to apply the principle of the Louisiana bill to all the Southern States, and thus supersede the general Reconstruction bill.

Havana, February 8.

The English steamer Silent, from Vera Cruz February 3d, arrived yesterday. Maximilian will leave the City of Mexico immediately, or has already left for some point from whence he can embark for Europe. The French continue their preparations for embarkation, and look for the arrival of a large fleet of transports soon. Diaz is to occupy the City of Mexico after the evacuation by Bazaine; he is now approaching the Capital. A circular has been issued by Bazaine declaring that all Frenchmen who join the Mexican army disfranchise themselves. Marquez wants money, and demands $60,000 from the Mexican merchants of Vera Cruz. The Prefect suggests that American, English and other merchants should be levied upon as well as Mexican merchants. Miramon and Marquez will be obliged to leave the country for their own safety.

Montreal, February 14.

Fortifications for the protection of the city will soon be commenced. St. Stephen's Island is to be rendered impregnable. Forts will be erected at La Prarie and several other points. Advices from England state that four regiments will be withdrawn from Canada on the opening of navigation.

Hartford, February 14.

The Union Convention of the 4th district of Connecticut nominated P. T. Barnum for Congress.

Buffalo, February 14.

The remaining portion of Table Rock, at Niagara Falls, fell to-day. Fortunately no one was hurt.

New York, February 14.

The Times' special says Sumner will offer one or more amendments to the Louisiana bill which may give rise to debate.

Fessenden will insist on incorporating in the House bill an amendment providing for the establishment of military governments in the South, and there is a fair prospect of its adoption by the Senate.

The Northern Pacific Railroad scheme has failed for the present, as the committee to whom it was referred decline to act this session.

It is probable that the President, in case the Senate rejects Bogy, will send in the name of General Webb, of Wisconsin, as Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

A Tribune special says that Thad. Stevens is unable to leave his house to-day on account of sickness brought on by fatigue and excitement on the occasion of his speech in the House last Wednesday. He fainted in his library yesterday morning, and was carried to bed. He was somewhat better last evening, but has seen no visitors.

Several leading Union members of Congress, among whom were Raymond, Bingham, Hubbell, Buckland and Delano, held a protracted caucus last night, for the purpose of ascertaining whether a compromise might not yet be effected between the President and Congress. There seems to be little doubt that the President is willing to agree upon a plan for the purpose of accomodating the views of the majority in Congress, provided they will meet him half way; but it appears there is nobody who can speak for a majority. Hence the difficulty in bringing about the proposed arrangement.

Morrill, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, being called home by the serious illness of his mother, it will seriously interfere with the progress of the Tariff bill in committee, as nearly all the members have left that important measure to his guidance. They will go on with it, however, with the view of getting it before the House as speedily as possible.

The Tribune's special says the Senate will pass both the Louisiana and Military Government bills before Wednesday next.

The vote in the Senate to-day showed that there is sufficient strength to pass the Niagara Ship Canal bill, and it will be put on its passage this week.

The bill to prevent the further contraction of greenbacks stands no chance of passing this session.

A great deal of most important testimony, implicating certain high officials in the New York Custom House frauds, has been collected.

Washington, February 14.

At the evening session of the House the Tax bill was considered in Committee of the Whole. The tax on distillers remains as at present—$10. On motion of Humphrey, the paragraph limiting to the 30th of April next the right of gas companies to add the tax to consumers, was stricken out. Scofield moved to reduce the duty on refined rock oil from 20 to 10 cents per gallon; rejected. On motion of Schenck, it was agreed that any person manufacturing or selling naptha mixed with oil, exploding at a less temperature than 110 degrees, should be punished with fine or imprisonment. The paragraph in the existing law imposing a tax of 10 cents per gallon on oil, benzine, naptha, etc., the product of crude petroleum, was struck out in order that it might be put on the free list. Paragraphs relating to sugar were struck out, and a new paragraph inserted taxing all sugars produced from sugar cane, and not refined, 1 cent per pound, and refined sugars 2 cents per pound, ad valorem. The present tax on wood screws was reduced from 10 to 5 per cent. ad valorem. Paragraphs relating to gunpowder were so amended as to make the tax on canister powder 2 cents per pound; sporting powder in kegs 1 cent per pound; blasting powder in kegs or casks half a cent per pound. Paragraphs relative to cigars, cigarettes, etc., were discussed. Myers moved to amend by imposing a uniform specific tax of $5 00 per thousand. Without further action, the House adjourned.

Harrisburg, February 14.

While the fast train was passing the neighborhood of Watsontown a broken rail threw a number of cars from the track, and several persons were injured.

Charleston, February 14.

Four men, lately belonging to the crew of the steamship City of Bath, have arrived here from Georgetown. They report that the steamer was burned, on Sunday morning, off Cape Hatteras. Of twenty-six persons aboard, all are believed to have been lost, except these four. The Bath was on her way from Boston to Savanna.

Washington, February 15.

Senate—Williams, Sherman and Buckalew were appointed a Conference Committee on the bill to regulate the tenure of office.

Sumner presented a remonstrance from the French Canadians residing in the United States against the confederation of the British Provinces. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Davis asked leave to offer an amendment to Wade's proposed one term Constitutional Amendment. It provides that each State shall, on the first Monday of January preceding the expiration of the President's term, nominate to Congress one of its citizens for the office of President. The two Houses shall meet in November and proceed to elect from those candidates [illegible] each ballot. The [illegible] elected shall not be eligible for re-election. Ordered printed.

New York, February 15.

Private dispatches [illegible] land lines [illegible] London with the [illegible] last evening [illegible]. As these lines traverse a district [illegible] rebellion, it is supposed to be the work of [illegible] zealous Fenians.

The Herald's special says Southern Loyalists do not approve of Eliot's bill for the reconstruction [illegible]. They complain that it will disfranchise [illegible] number of whites better fitted to vote [illegible] a negro Governor [illegible] Congress, etc., will be forced on them.

It is stated the President is still of the opinion that the action of Congress will be condemned by the people.

Washington, February 15.

The friends of Colorado are confident that the State bill will pass over the President's veto.

Washington, February 15.

Additional Senate—The Reconstruction bill was taken up. Johnson submitted, as an amendment, the Blaine amendment defeated in the House. Wilson moved to amend the Blaine amendment so as to add to what the Southern States must do, before being entitled to representation, as follows; and have provided by their Constitution and laws that all citizens of the United States shall equally possess the right to pursue all lawful avocations and business, and receive equal benefits from the public schools, and have equal rights of citizens of the United States in said State. He should vote for the bill with or without the amendment. Howard, Williams, Morrill, and others spoke on the subject. At half-past four a recess was taken.

At the evening session Wilson introduced the following, which was ordered printed: Be it enacted, etc., that the 14th Article of the Amendment to the Constitution, having been duly ratified by the Legislatures of the requisite number of States, the same is hereby declared duly ratified as a part of the Constitution of the United States, and valid to all intents and purposes; and when any State lately in insurrection shall have ratified the same, and shall have modified their Constitution and laws in conformity therewith, and which shall secure equal and impartial suffrage to all male citizens of the United States who have attained the age of twenty-one years, and resided in the State one year, and town, parish, city, district, or county, three months next preceding the day of election, without regard to race or color, or previous condition of servitude, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the late rebellion, in elections for President, elections for Representatives in Congress, and in any and all elections, for Governor, State, county, district, parish, city, or town officers, and has provided by its Constitution and laws that all citizens of the United States shall equally possess the right to pursue all lawful avocations and business, to receive equal benefits from the public schools, and has given equal protection to all citizens of the United States in said State, and when said Constitution shall be submitted to the voters of said State, as thus defind, for ratification or rejection, and when the Constitution, if ratified by the people of said State, shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, said State shall, if its Constitution be approved by Congress, be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on taking the oath prescribed by law.

The Reconstruction bill was then taken up. Wilson's amendment was disagreed to. Other amendments were offered, but without action. The Senate was still in session, at half-past one.

House, evening session—The amendments to the House bill, to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States, were considered. A motion to lay the amendments on the table was negatived, 63 to 65.

McRuer reported a bill to authorize the establishment of an ocean mail steamship service between the United States and Sandwich Islands. Ordered printed and recommitted.

New Orleans, February 15.

Mexican news received states that General Espey, with 600 Imperialists, held Campachy. There had been considerable skirmishing between the Imperialists and Liberals.

The people are tired of Maximilian, and are banding together to strike the final blow. Several leagues are organizing troops.

Heart's Content, February 15.

No further particulars of the trouble in Ireland have been received from Valentia.

New York, February 15.

The Post's Washington special reports that the President has promised to accept the Military bill with Blaine's amendment.

New York, February 16.

The grounds on which the United States bases its demand, in the Chancery Court of Great Britain, for the restoration of cotton held by Trenholm & Priolean, Rebel agents in England, are in effect that our confiscation laws apply to all, from country or not; that by the laws of all nations rebels cannot transfer to others property belonging to a legitimate sovereign, and that if even such power exists, the complete suppression of the rebellion and the annulling by rebel States of all their pretended contracts restores to the United States as the only possible owner, all property in dispute.

Washington, February 16.

The following is a continuation of the Senate proceedings:

Wilson endeavored to effect a compromise to get a vote by 8 o'clock. Wright and Doolittle would agree to 10 o'clock, but not to 8 o'clock. The question was taken up at 2:35 P. M. on Sumner's amendment declaring that the 14th section of the amendment shall be adopted when ratified by three-fourths of the States in Congress. Disagreed to, 7 to 28. At 3 A. M. Henderson offered the Louisiana bill in a modified form, as a substitute for the pending bill, and it was read at length. There was no prospect of a vote being taken before 10 o'clock this (Saturday) night.

New York, February 16.

The news from Ireland causes much excitement in Fenian circles here and in Brooklyn. Meetings are being held constantly and public demonstrations are to be appointed.

The World's special says that a Union Congressman had a conference last night with the President, and states that the latter seems inclined to favor the Blaine amendment as a compromise between the Executive and Congress on the Reconstruction question, but with the modification that it shall demand impartial suffrage from the South, in place of universal suffrage.

Henry St. Marie, the witness by whose evidence the identity of Surratt, the alleged accomplice of Booth, Atzerot and Paine, was determined, arrived at this port yesterday in the steamer St. Lawrence, and went direct to Washington by evening train.

The Times' special says that Wm. Zeinstreet, a stenographer, is charged with selling the testimony in the New York Custom House investigation to outside parties, and to Collector Smythe in particular. He is under arrest. Smythe paid him 25 or 50 cents per page. Among the evidence thus stolen is that of Mr. Brown, Collecter Smythe's private secretary. The testimony secured in this case has caused much excitement among certain parties, some of whom threaten Hubbard, Chairman of the Committee, with political slaughter.

The Committee of Ways and Means dismissed the drug section of the Tariff bill without material change, as it came from the Senate.

A Tribune special says there are yet hopes that a compromise between the President and Congress will be effected.

The Tariff bill will not be ready to report before Monday.

The Loan bill will not be considered in Committee of the Whole until the middle of next week.

Washington, February 16.

The Senate adjourned at 3:30 A. M. without an understanding when a vote upon the Reconstruction bill would be taken, and re-assembled at a special hour to-day.

Poland insisted on his amendment to the Bankrupt bill.

Morrill, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported adversely on the petition for the enfranchisement of unnaturalized citizens of the District.

The bill to provide for the allotment by the Court of members of the Supreme Court, among Circuits, and to provide a Marshal for the Supreme Court, passed the House.

The Senate amendments to the Invalid Pension bill, were concurred in.

Additional Senate—Pomeroy, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill granting to Kansas public lands to aid in the extension of the Southern Branch of the Union Pacific Railroad, from Fort Riley to the Junction with the Central Branch.

The Military Reconstruction bill was taken up.

Additional House—A bill to amend an act, declaring the officer who shall act as President of the United States in case of vacancies in the office both of President and Vice President, passed.

The Committee on Commerce reported a large number of bills which were acted upon; also the River and Harbor bill, appropriating $4,800,000, which was passed.

[BY CABLE.]

London, February 14.

Government has been advised of the landing of two ship loads of Fenians at Valentia. Sir Hugh Rose, commanding General in Ireland, and Lord James, leave for Ireland at once. There is a renewed rumor that the Fenians will attempt to cut the cable.

London, February 14.

Government will assume the legal expense of defence of Governor Eyre, of Jamaica, whose trial is now progressing.

The bill for a Confederation in British America only embraces Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

The main steamer from Rio Janeiro brings the intelligence that a rebellion had broken out in Paraguay, which seriously threatened the power and life of President Lopez.

Alexandria, February 13.

A number of vessels have passed through the Suez canal.

Valentia, February 15.

The telegraph wires ceased working at Valentia and Killarney at half-past seven last night, and are still down. Two land dispatches, which were sent through the cable to-day, were received by mail from Killarney.

Dublin, February 14.

News has been received that the Fenians assembled this morning at Killarney and marched towards Kildare. Troops and artillery have been sent in persuit.

London, February 14—P. M.

Government denies the truth of the stories about the landing of two ship loads of Fenians at Valentia. It is admitted there is a serious revolt at and near Killarney. The telegraph wires near Valentia have been destroyed for a long distance, and riot and pillage are rampant. A guard policeman was killed.

London, February 15.

About 800 Fenians, commanded by Colonel O'Connor, retreated to the hills near Killarney. British troops were posted at Mallow Junction, county of Cork, commanding the hill and district. The excitement in the neighborhood is intense and the women are precipitately leaving. An ex-United States Captain was arrested at Killarney on suspicion of being a Fenian. A large number of marines at Plymouth have been ordered to proceed to Ireland.

FROM THE WEST.

(From the [illegible] Union.)

San Francisco, February 8.

A gentleman just in from Arizona says the new twenty-stamp mill of Vulture Company, at Wickenburg, has commenced running, with splendid results. [illegible] the mill. The old five-stamp mill is also running and coining money. The Chimahuevi Indian who murdered Herman Ehrenberg at Dos Palmas last fall, shot Dr. Smith in the San Gorgonio Pass, and recently, with others, made the raid on the settlements in Sawmill Canyon, near San Bernardino, was killed last week by the friendly Coahulas, near Agua Caliente. He was shot twenty times and yet managed to kill two of his assailants before being dispatched, having two revolvers, which he used with effect.

The number of passengers for the East by the steamer to-morrow is quite small.

"DON'T WANT YOU IN THE PLAY."—A few weeks ago, an old bachelor whose whiskers were beginning to silver, concluded to renew his age by marrying a school girl—which, by the way, is too common. After gaining the mother's consent, the next thing was to tie the knot; the next thing, furnish a house and take little Lottie wife home; next thing in order was to hire a servant—then, of course, the domestic wheel began to turn. One day his lordship came in, and said: "Bridget, where is my Lottie?" "Out in the yard, at play with one of her schoolmates," replied Bridget. Husband, in all the fullness of his heart, rushed out in the yard to participate in the fun, but was greatly set back by his "little Lottie" saying: "Go away, you old fool! we don't want you in the play."—San Francisco Call.

LOS ANGELES.—We learn from the News of the 1st instant, that a Mexican made an assault upon Judge de la Guerra on Wednesday evening, attempting to cut him with a knife, but did not succeed in inflicting any wounds. The fellow was promptly arrested and lodged in jail. It is said he is insane.

An effort is being made to organize a fire department there.

A few days ago, a party of hostile Indians attacked and burned the house of William Cain, situated on what is known as Sawmill Canyon, near the city of San Bernardino, first plundering the premises.

It is reported that a fight occurred a few days ago some distance east of Camp Cady, in which twenty-five Indians were killed.

THE Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court for the Western District of Texas has indicted Thomas J. Devine, of San Antonio, Texas, for treason. The accused will be remembered as one of the committee of public safety, to whom General Twiggs surrendered the United States army before Texas had seceded from the Union. He was afterward the Confederate States District Judge under Jeff. Davis. He was noted as the most relentless confiscator of Northern property and persecutor of Union men in all rebeldom. He had many of the staunch Unionists of Texas prosecuted for treason and incarcerated until the very close of the rebellion.

INCREASING.—We learn that the second lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows is being organized in this city. This is rendered necessary by the increase of the order.—Reese River Reveille.

PEAT.—Large quantities of peat have been found in Alameda county, Cal. It is said to be equal to the peat found in Ireland.

[illegible] L. H. Barber, proprietor of the City Hotel, Idaho City, [illegible] the following [illegible] to his customers:

"All of you Dead Heads who can always have plenty of money to run with the Hurdy Gurdys and to gamble with, but cannot think of saving enough to pay your board, will take notice that in every instance hereafter, where they play that game for board at the City Hotel, I will place their names on my Bulletin Board, in front of the Hotel, which I had made for that express purpose. I have become heartily tired of the above described class of people. Their style is to commence boarding—the first week they pay promptly—the second week or two they never pay. I have thousands of dollars, in bills of this kind, and do not wish any more."

To Keep the Feet Dry.—The following recipe for keeping the feet dry and preserving leather is highly recommended by those who have used it:

It consists of four articles—tallow, soap, rosin, and water. These ingredients are prepared as follows: Twenty-one parts of tallow are melted in a vessel, three parts of rosin added, and the two, when melted, mixed well together. In another vessel, seven parts of good washing soap are dissolved in seventy parts of pure rain-water. After it is dissolved, and the mass heated to a boiling point, we add the part prepared before; let it boil once more gently, and the preperation is ready for use. It is specially adapted to boots, harness, and leather gilding.

A very incorrect personal paragraph about Parepa is afloat. In the first place, she is not going to get married again shortly. In the second place, she has no child. In the third, she is not the widow of an Italian, but of a Canadian and an officer in the British army, named Cowell. Parepa is her maiden name. In the fourth place, Bateman is taking an unwarrantable liberty in announcing the concerts she is now giving as a farewell series. She has formed an alliance with Brignoli for another tour next Spring, not under the management of Bateman.
